

Life Changes

Oliver and Grace have a normal and happy life until everything suddenly changes.

On a sunny morning in Winter Grace receives a phone call in her workplace. It is from hospital informing her that Oliver has have a car accident and is transferred to hospital by ambulance. It seems Oliver's car was hit by a truck that has lost the control, when driving to work after dropping children at school.

His condition is not good at all and unfortunately, he passes away before Grace can reach to hospital.

His last word to his nurse that wants to be passed to his waif is "I will be in touch"!

The condition of family is not good at all. Friends and colleagues coming to their home to express their empathy and deliver their condolences to Grace and offer any help that she may needs.

Their best family friend is a young guy that has been the assistant and coworker of Oliver.

His name is Sathvik, and his wife is Maya, both with Indian backgrounds. They have been close friends to Oliver and Grace from the time they moved to USA and have dinner together many times in each other's house.

Now that Oliver is gone, everyone is Sad. Lucas and Ella cannot believe they have lost their father and Grace does not know how to handle these conditions and help children to overcome the situation.

After funeral and burying the body of Oliver, Grace decides to travel to Australia with her children and spend some time with her mom and old friends, maybe it can help them to adopt to the new situation quicker and reduce the pain of Oliver's death.